Co-ordinators AGM Report 2009

This past year brought huge changes to the Maleny LETS office. Due to monthly rental expenses for a shared office space our funds dwindled. We had to rethink the situation. Fortunately we were successful in obtaining a grant from the Maleny Credit Union in December 2008 for a notebook computer. As we became more efficient and web based with the Community Exchange System (CES) we didn't require the use of an office like the old days. We could be totally mobile and more 'out there' with our members.

The Upfront Club welcomed our presence two days a week making it convenient for members and interested persons to pop in and renew, join up or learn about the CES system. Many were happy just to have a chat just like the old days at the Maleny Credit Union office.

Bill Richardson (LETS office staff) has kindly allowed us to use his home office to store files, printer and other bits and pieces. Also having the wireless broadband in town is a God-send (or a Darrell Ebenezer send) - thank you Darrell for your generous bunya-deal for the wireless connection. All of these occurrences supported our setting up of our mobile office at the Upfront Club on 31st March 2009.

Our two shifts a week are handled by the very slim staff of: Ann Jupp, Bill Richardson, Jan Duffield and Carmel Givens. Thank you Jan and Bill, always reliable to cover shifts, do PR work and take on those extra chores that some of us (me) back peddle on. Kaelana is always happy to fill in when needed and helps us tremendously with the markets as well. We are kept very busy and often do extra work at home.

Talking of very busy, our wonderful 'Newsletter Angel' Gay Liddington who is employed at Maple Street Co-op keeps our newsletter coming. I don't know how she does it but the newsletter keeps getting better and better! Lucky she loves writing and lucky for us she also loves LETS. Thank you Gay for your never ending positive spirit and creative writing.

A big thank you goes to Ann Jupp our secretary for her many years of minute taking and representing us at various gatherings including the annual National LETS Conference.

Special mention must be made of the work contributed by Robin Clayfield who has been a LETS member for many years. Due to other work demands this year, she has not been able to contribute as much as she would like. Each year Robyn flies the 'LETS flag' at the Woodford Folk Festival selling LETS vouchers and arranging membership renewals.

Sally Atkinson took on serious studies this year. Thank you Sally for all your help when it was desperately needed.

Thank you to Peter Pamment for computer support and also your assistance with the 'big move'. We could never have managed the computer change over without you.

I can't tell you all enough how much you are appreciated. I feel Maleny LETS is forging ahead and I am very proud to be a part of this special team.

Carmel Givens ~ Coordinator Maleny LETS

CHEWY ALMOND MACAROONS (gluten free)

An Iraqi recipe taken from Nigella Lawson's "Feast" cookbook, adapted slightly by my friend Mari!

- 2 ½ cups natural (unblanched) almonds
- 1 cup caster sugar
- ½ teaspoon ground cardamom (make sure it's not stale!)
- 2 egg whites from large eggs
- 1 tablespoon honey
- 1 – 2 tablespoons rosewater
- Blanched almonds to decorate (optional)

Preheat oven to 200°C and line 2 baking sheets with baking paper.

Process natural almonds in a food processor until reasonably fine. Add sugar, cardamom, egg whites and honey, then process again briefly to combine.

Dampen your hands with the rosewater then roll dessertspoonfuls of the paste into balls, scenting your hands again with the rosewater before rolling each ball. Flatten the balls slightly with a fork and stud each with a blanched almond before baking if you like.

Bake for approximately 10 minutes or until golden. Cool on the baking sheet and store in an airtight container. Makes 20 – 28.

Member Feedback: When I bought my caravan, it came with a new Queen-size bed which I didn't want. I instantly found a buyer who did not have spare cash for a new bed. However, this person was keen to learn about LETS. He readily gave me the membership fee, received a LETS 'check' book and paid for his bed in bunyas. The bed gone, I had extra space and more bunyas for massage and other good things like market bargains, computer advice and training. How easy!

GARDEN 4 DAILY LIVING

In this special garden 4 types of LETTUCE grow:

Lettuce be faithful; lettuce be kind; lettuce be happy; lettuce really love one another.

TURNIPS are essential, 3 types:

Turnips for service when needed; turnips to help one another; turnips for the music and dance.

3 types of PEAS are required:

Peas of Mind; Peas of Heart; Peas of Soul.

To complete this garden, 3 types of SQUASH are needed:

Squash indifference; squash grumbling; squash selfishness.

And of course 3 types of THYME:

Thyme for fun; thyme for rest; thyme for ourselves.

MARKET ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

On behalf of Maleny LETS we would like to acknowledge dedicated Sunshine Coast LETS members for their support each month at our markets: Jeanie for her great massages, books, vegies, honey and other treats, Coralee for haircuts, Helen and others who travel to Maleny LETS Markets. We very much appreciate your support.

Is Western Medicine Treating You Well?

People are becoming increasingly fed up with western medicine's band aid approach to health care and are turning to alternative health care practitioners (AHCP's) to help them overcome their conditions.

The beauty of these therapies is that they approach the issue from a different paradigm of health and thus are able to help where western medicine is either ineffectual or detrimental to the person. While western medicine can be essential in acute and critical cases, in chronic issues the focus is more on suppressing the symptoms of sickness which will return when suppression (eg through medication) ceases, while AHCP's seeks to discover why you are susceptible to the condition in the first place. They view diseases and illnesses as a response to a lifestyle that is not serving the whole person (physical, emotional, mental, and spiritual) well. The practitioner addresses those factors causing the health conditions not only to overcome the symptoms of the illness but the true cause of the problem will also be addressed.

While AHCP's such as Naturopath's, Acupuncturists, Homeopaths, Chiropractors, Osteopaths are now well recognised, Kinesiology is a therapy that is less well known despite its conception in the 1960's. Whilst many health care practitioners may use the muscle testing of kinesiology to assist them in their own modality, Kinesiology is a therapy in its own right with many techniques to address health issues.

Kinesiology tests the function of the muscles to access information about the persons overall state of physical, emotional, mental and spiritual health. The muscles are directly linked to both the conscious and subconscious areas of the brain via the nervous system thus we can use their responses to understand issues more fully and holistically and create awareness of contributing unhelpful patterns. Kinesiology considers health issues are the outcome of blocked or imbalanced energy flow. In a consultation the nature of the interrupted energy flow and any factors contributing to it is identified, and then corrections are used that facilitate the body's own healing process.

Practically everyone may benefit from Kinesiology, from the unborn child to the elderly, from the fit to the infirm and injured, even animals may benefit from it.

It can assist with:

- Pain, Physical and Neurological conditions
- Psychological issues (grief, trauma, anxiety, depression, self esteem issues and phobias)
- Emotional and relationship issues
- Allergies, Food sensitivities and Nutritional balancing; Learning and Behaviour challenges
- Improving Performance (work, school, sports)
- Personal, Energetic and Spiritual development

It can also help maintain good health by regular general balancing to prevent health issues arising.

FROM THE OFFICE with Ann Jupp

Hello from the LETS gang. Operations at the Upfront Club are going well with interest from prospective members some of whom have joined, and many current members renewing. It's a good social time as well. Thanks to Club management for enabling us to use the premises and supporting LETS. Also thanks to Darryl for the wireless internet access.

NATIONAL LETS CONFERENCE: I have just returned from a weekend in Sydney at the 2009 National Conference. It was organised by Sydney/Illawarra (amalgamated) and was held at The Factory Community Centre in inner city Waterloo/Redfern. Most of us were billeted at Newtown only a short distance away and very 'buzzy'. Newtown is a lively place, unbelievable traffic, every second shop a cafe/restaurant, people everywhere, sirens wailing, low flying planes (very close to the very busy Sydney Airport) – a huge contrast to Maleny.

There were a variety of sessions on sustainability issues as well as the usual questions: attracting more members, encouraging trading, etc. On the Saturday, we had presentations on how to use the World Cafe and Open Space approach for information sharing and problem solving. Another, on a network called "Neighbourhoods That Work", a talk by an "Urban WWOOFer" and there was also a representative from Permaculture North (Northern Sydney). In the evening we dined at an Italian restaurant.

On Sunday we heard about Transition Town Sydney, the CES, and had several discussions groups on growing LETS. Some LETS people at the conference were not using the CES but those of us who are learnt some new tricks! A very full program!!!

The food was brilliant and the company was great! There were quite a few old faces and many new people to meet. Networking and sharing stories is a very important part of these gatherings. Unfortunately Monday was wet and cold so not very comfortable for sight-seeing. The Melbourne contingent had planned to do a Harbour cruise but settled for Opera House and Gallery instead. I stayed in a quaint terrace house with Sydney LETS members who settled us in then disappeared off to the bush for the weekend! No venue has been set for 2010 yet, but I'll be there.

WOODFORD FOLK FESTIVAL: We will be selling Bunya Vouchers for you to spend at the Chai Tent. These can usually be purchased at 12 midday on the dot from Robin or her deputy at the Chai Tent but will be available for pre-purchase from LETS staff at the Club any Tuesday or Wednesday between 10 a.m. and 1 p.m. Pre-purchase is the preferred way to get vouchers. You can also pay your 2009-2010 membership renewal if you aren't currently financial.

COOPERATIVE MALENY FESTIVAL: Congratulations to the organising team for the recent Co-op Festival - a week of events celebrating and promoting our many Maleny cooperatives. LETS had a table outside the Maple Street Co-op and there was quite a bit of interest in what LETS was and how it works. We also took some memberships and renewals.

CHRISTMAS HOLIDAYS: We are taking a well earned break. The Upfront Club "office" will not be 'person-ed' over the holidays. We close on the 9th December at 1pm and re-open 10am, 19th January 2010. Come and join us for Chrissie Drinks at the Club from 5.30 p.m. on Friday, 11 December at 5.30pm. HAPPY HOLIDAYS TO ALL OUR LETS MEMBERS. See you next year.

From the EDITORS DESK

Another successful year for Maleny LETS! A portable office operating from the Upfront Club, membership continues to increase, people are embracing the CES system and member markets thrive.

Almost 900 trades occurred in the Maleny District during the past year. Have you checked out your trading statistics? I discovered I had earned almost 2,000 bunyas, spent just over 1200, made 29 purchases and 38 trades.

Bunyas increased my abundance! Haircuts, art tuition, massage, counselling, and a number of market treats including flowers, food, books & CDs.

Please share how LETS has enriched your life. Send details for the next newsletter, out in February.

Abundant Trading in 2010!

Dear CES Administrators

A couple of things you may (or may not!) have noticed that there is a link titled How do I ... ? at the top of 'CES Information' on the home page of your CES user account. This is in the same location as the User Guide.

This is a relatively short Question and Answer document that attempts to answer those common questions that users as you.

Now instead of responding with repeated emails you can just point them to the "How do I ... ?" file.

If you can think of any questions to add to this list, please send them to us.

2. In the Administration interface there is now a new function under the 'Publications' icon. You will see '9. Publications Logfile'.

This is a logfile that records all publications that get sent to users e.g. notices, newsletters, offerings and wants lists etc.

It is easy to forget what has been sent. Now you can check up whether you have sent the publication or not.

Have fun!

Tim Jenkin (This email is from Global Groups Administrator of the 'CES Administrators')
